

The comparison between countries is more relevant if the heating consumption is adjusted to the EU average climate; this adjustment narrows the differences between countries; for 9 countries with a climate warmer than the EU average the adjusted consumption is higher

No adjustment for Cyprus and Malta