

Variation of primary and final energy intensities in EU-27 (2000-2009)

- Faster decrease of the primary energy intensity than the final intensity in the majority of countries because of an improvement in the efficiency of electricity generation linked to the rapid penetration of gas-combined cycles, cogeneration and wind.

