

Energy savings for passengers (25 Mtoe in to 2008 compared to 2000) are only due to cars due to a technological effect (decrease in specific consumption in liter/100km) and a reduction in the annual distance travelled per car. Since 2000, slow down in energy savings for all modes, except for rail.

